Teaching Learning Facilitation:

We embraced diverse teaching methods, blending conventional and technological approaches. Our faculty, equipped with technology, delivered engaging sessions via online platforms, PPTs, blogs, and multimedia, fostering a dynamic learning environment. In addition to syllabus-based teaching, departments conducted teaching-learning through hands-on training, experiential learning, participative learning, seminars, workshops, competitions, and guest lectures to give students an edge in their respective subjects. 89 programmes were conducted this year under teaching-learning criteria that benefitted the students.

Evaluation:

Our students achieved commendable results across all disciplines. The statistics of FY, SY, TY Examinations in March 2023 demonstrate their commitment and dedication.

Staff Development and Progression:

The institution encourages staff to undertake training and update knowledge through training workshops, seminars, hands-on training sessions, orientation and refresher programmes. In addition to these, the staff of our college also participates in paper presentations and research publications. This year, 12 faculty members have participated in and completed refresher programmes in their subjects, and 13 have undertaken faculty development programmes (FDP). In 2022-23, 43 research papers were published in various national and international research journals by our staff, of which 09 papers were published in UGC Care listed journals. 09 members of our staff published book chapters in edited books. Dr. Ritu Jain, Associate Professor of Botany, received the Professor S.S. Bir Medal in Pteridology Award for research at an international conference by the Indian Fern Society. Dr. Nandita Singh, Dr. Kmaran Abbas Mirza, Ms. Fatema Zohra Momin and Ms. Tasmi Ansari were awarded Patents for their respective research.

MOU's and Collaborations:

The institution has 11 collaborations and MOUs this year with NGO's, industry and other educational institutions to exchange knowledge and encourage student placements.

Scholarship:

The institution encourages students to apply for scholarship programmes and schemes. 499 students have benefitted from government and non-government scholarships to the tune of Rs. 4371144.5/- till date. The Scholarship Committee strives to make scholarships accessible to all students and guides them to apply for various schemes.

Concluding Remarks:

When I look back at the year that has passed, the institution has consistently endeavoured to uphold the vision and mission of providing a holistic and well-rounded education to the female students of our college to march ahead with courage, confidence and faith in their abilities. It is a testament to the collective efforts of our management, faculty, and students that we continue to soar in the pursuit of progress and accomplishment.

Thank you for being a part of our inspiring journey.

Dr. Tabassum Sheikh
